NARRATOR: (ms. 40) God has always had a people. Many a foolish conqueror has made the mistake of thinking that because they had driven the church of Jesus Christ out of sight, that they had stilled its voice and snuffed out its life; but God has always had a people. The powerful current of a rushing river is not diminished because it's forced to flow underground. No, the purest water is the stream that bursts crystal clear into the sunlight after it has forced its way through solid rock. There have been charlatans who, like Simon the magician, sought to barter on the open market this power that cannot be bought or sold. But God has always had a people . . . men who could not be bought and women who were beyond the purchase. God has always had a people. There have been times of affluence and prosperity, when the church's message has been nearly diluted into oblivion by those who sought to make it socially attractive, neatly organized, and financially profitable. It's been gold-plated, draped in purple and encrusted with jewels. It's been misrepresented, ridiculed, lauded, and scorned. These followers of Jesus Christ have been—according to the whim of the times—elevated as sacred leaders and martyred as heretics. Yet through it all, there marches on this powerful army of the meek; God's chosen people who cannot be bought, flattered, murdered or stilled. On through the ages they march . . . the church, God's church triumphant, alive and well!

Detailed description: The musical score is for a song, likely 'The Promised Land'. It consists of three systems of music. The first system (measures 105-107) has a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The piano part has chords A7, G/E, F#m/E, B7sus, and E. The second system (measures 108-110) continues the vocal melody and piano accompaniment, with chords G/E, Bm/E, A7, G/E, F#m/E, and B7sus. The third system (measures 111-113) features a piano solo. The piano part starts with a 'N.C.' (No Chords) instruction and a 'mf' (mezzo-forte) dynamic. It then moves to D/E and E chords. The piano part is written in a style that suggests a steady, rhythmic accompaniment.
