

Tonight was the premiere of the opera “_____ color _____ animal” by the modern composer _____ teacher's name .

The opera began with the main character singing a/an _____ tempo aria about losing his/her _____ favorite toy .

Then, a/an _____ adjective wizard made his entrance. The two sang a/an _____ adjective duet about making the most of a/an _____ adjective situation.

In the second act, a chorus of _____ plural noun sang a/an _____ adjective song, where it was discovered that the main character must _____ verb his/her _____ article of clothing to make the missing _____ same toy reappear. He/she did so, and the missing toy magically came back.

At the conclusion of the show, the audience applauded _____ adverb . One audience member commented, “This opera is _____ adjective , but it’s not as _____ adjective as _____ famous composer ’s.”

The rock group The Mighty _____ was nearing the end of a/an plural breed of dog _____ concert.
adjective

They had just finished their power ballad “ _____ ,” a love
adjective name of food song about their favorite food, when a bunch of _____ jumped on the plural animal
 stage!

Once the _____ were taken care of, The Mighty _____ same plural animal same plural breed of dog decided to finish with a/an _____ song about _____. The leader of the adjective plural noun rock group played _____ on the _____. The drummer _____ adverb musical instrument past-tense verb
 her drumsticks, and the keyboardist _____ all over the piano.
past-tense verb

After the concert, the band celebrated backstage by eating _____ pounds of number
 _____ .
name of food