MUSIC FOR WORSHIP

Hello, everyone!

Several weeks ago, our pastor was out of town, and I provided the Sunday message for our congregation. My topic was Psalm 95, a familiar passage of Scripture for folks involved in music ministry. As I was preparing the sermon, I read an online commentary discussing the psalm's opening verses: "O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms." (Psalm 95:1-2, KJV)

Although I can't remember the author of the commentary, I do remember his insight. He suggested that God, through the inspired words of the Psalmist, invites us to "make a joyful noise" and come to Him "with thanksgiving" because He knows we get tired. He knows bad things sometimes happen to us. He knows we often enter worship with weary hearts. During those times, it's as if He says to us, "I know you live in a troubled world, full of conflict and pain, but, right now, just for these few minutes, I'm inviting you to leave that place and come to a better place, spiritually speaking. Come worship Me, the One who is sovereign over every facet of life and is working all things for your good."

As we once again share the Christmas story, let's strive to do so with joyful and thankful hearts. Though the world seems darker than ever, we serve a God who will ultimately bring about His purposes and His kingdom. And that's good news... good news we need to share with others!

All the resources contained in this catalog are designed to help you accomplish that goal. I don't have space to write about every new anthem contained here, but I would like to comment on a few of my personal favorites.

For Thanksgiving, be sure to check out Lloyd Larson's "Rejoice." His arrangement of this new song from the Getty team will work beautifully as a call to worship or as a general anthem during the fall season.

As you plan your Christmas services, spend some time with "Love Came Down at Christmas" with "Whiter Than Snow." This new setting from Jay Rouse is perfect for Christmas Eve, and the instrumentation is breathtaking. For your seasonal opener, look no further than Lloyd Larson's "Come and Celebrate Christ, the Newborn King," a festive piece complete with optional brass and congregational participation. Smaller choirs will definitely be interested in Ruth Elaine Schram's "Good News, Jesus Is Born," and, for a slightly different approach to a Christmas anthem, please consider my own "Have You Found the King?" Lastly, don't close this catalog until you've heard Larry Shackley's "Christians in This Hall." You're going to love it!

For general worship, Mary McDonald's "To Worship God Alone" is extremely powerful and would also be effective for mission services and church anniversary celebrations. "Hymn of Heaven," arranged by Molly Ijames, is an inspired choice for both general and memorial services, and my arrangement of "Christ Our Wisdom," from Sovereign Grace, would be an appropriate selection for those ministries wishing to incorporate new hymns into their musical repertoire.

Turning back to Christmas, we're thrilled to present Night of Hope, Night of Grace: A Christmas Service of Lessons and Carols from none other than Joel Raney! With a wide variety of performance options, I promise you this cantata will not disappoint.

Please know how much we value you and your ministries. As always, feel free to reach out with any suggestions on how we may continue to serve you well. From all of us here at The Lorenz Corporation, have a wonderful fall and a very Merry Christmas!

Sincerely,

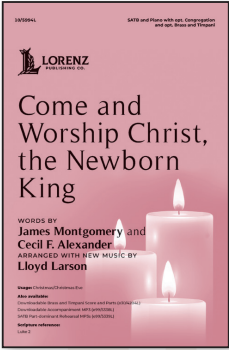

Brad Nix

Gloria

A Festive Suite for Choir and Orchestra

Mary McDonald

Mary McDonald's compelling three-movement original work for choir and orchestra draws on ancient themes and Latin text to offer a soaring expression of praise to "God alone, the Author and Finisher of our faith." The suite opens with a jubilant "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," moves into the deeply expressive "Et in Terra Pax," and culminates in the epic "Gloria Dei Patri (Glory to the Father)."

In addition to its original accompaniment for full orchestra, Gloria may also be presented with brass and percussion. A supplemental organ part is available which can be used with the full orchestration, brass and percussion, or alongside the piano accompaniment. Pronunciation guides, rehearsal tracks, and accompaniment recordings are also available to support preparation. At just under 12 minutes, this impactful work makes a powerful addition to Christmas worship—as a final statement following carols or a stirring conclusion to a traditional cantata.

Gloria offers a vibrant and fresh contribution to the Latin sacred repertoire, ideal for community choirs, university ensembles, and church choirs alike.

Night of Hope, Night of Grace

A Christmas Service of Lessons and Carols

Joel Raney

In Night of Hope, Night of Grace, Joel Raney uses the traditional Lessons and Carols format to trace the familiar story from prophecy to birth to celebration. A blend of original works and beloved carol arrangements—including “Silent Night,” “Ding Dong! Merrily on High,” “O Come, All Ye Faithful,” and more—this is a work where, in Joel’s words, “each lesson prepares the heart; each carol deepens the response.”

Scripture and song weave across approximately 50 minutes in this cantata, which serves as both a proclamation of hope and a celebration of grace. Choir and congregation alike will appreciate the renewed color, drama, and expression Raney brings to familiar melodies, and the optional orchestration by Ed Hogan adds additional depth and impact. Experience the wonder of Christmas anew with Night of Hope, Night of Grace!

Light of Christ, Born for Us

A Christmas Celebration

Mary McDonald, Jay Rouse, and David Wise

"His Light had no darkness. His day had no night. He promised He would come—and so, we waited."

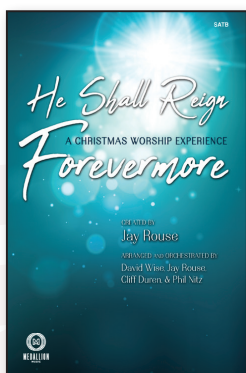

These powerful words by Rose Aspinall set the stage for Jay Rouse's "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel." With Jay's trademark groove and intensity, it's the perfect opener for this sweeping celebration of Christmas! Featuring music from Jay along with Mary McDonald and David Wise, these top arrangers of choral music for the church showcase familiar carols in vibrant, sometimes unexpected, ways that bring fresh life to welcome classics, including an energetic "Angels from the Realms of Glory," a theatrical, yet heartfelt setting of Wexford Carol, "A Blessed Messiah Born," and a driving, modern setting of "What Child Is This?" An orchestration is available along with various recorded accompaniment options, stems, and rehearsal aids.

This 30-minute musical, which is equally effective for concert use throughout the Christmas season, culminates with a joyous "Festival of Christmas," as Rose's thoughtful narration reminds us of what we are here to celebrate. "We celebrate the promise here and now and we celebrate the promise of His coming again! Jesus, light of the World is born for us!"

A Blessed Messiah Born

Mary McDonald

Advent · Christmas

This expressive setting of the beloved English melody, WEXFORD CAROL, is truly stunning. The classic harmonies are beautifully set in the piano and vocal writing, which is elevated by Ed Hogan's finely crafted, soaring orchestration. The traditional nature of this carol is respected while incorporating fresh and vibrant musical character.

CHORAL MUSIC FOR WORSHIP

Hey, everybody!

I am so grateful to come to you again with a wonderful release of new songs. My prayer with every release is that God helps me find the most useful tools to help you facilitate worship and make your ministry a little easier each week. The Lord is always faithful, and this collection is a beautiful testament to that.

Mary McDonald brings her signature style to two standout pieces. The first is the 16th-century Christmas classic “Coventry Carol.” Mary has arranged this haunting lullaby as only she can, embellishing the traditional melody with a soaring “Lully, lullay...” refrain, a gorgeous piano part, and optional full orchestration. Her second arrangement is a CCM classic from David Meece, “One Small Child.” Set in the original 6/8 time signature, the poetic lyrics and lovely melody are sure to be a highlight of your Christmas season.

David Wise delivers two pieces that will deeply bless your choir and congregation. “Who Else” is a powerful anthem centering on God’s holiness and our response of singular devotion. It is designed to lead your people into a place of focused reverence, stripping away distractions and creating space for a powerful time of worship. David’s second piece is “Emmanuel” by Charity Gayle. Reminding us that God has always been with His people and always will be, this duet-led arrangement with choir support serves as a dynamic centerpiece for any Christmas service.

Cliff Duren provides a choir-friendly version of the popular Passion anthem “Hope Has a Name.” This song focuses on the sufficiency of Christ, reminding us that every human need—healing, freedom, and peace—is fulfilled in the name of Jesus. It is a timely message for the modern church. Cliff also brings us Rend Collective’s “A Christmas Hymn,” a reverent reimagining of “Come, Thou Fount of Every Blessing.” By pairing that beloved 18th-century melody with lyrics that trace Christ’s journey from the manger to the cross, he creates a perfect bridge between traditional and contemporary worship.

“Jesus Lifted Me” is one of those songs you won’t be able to get out of your head. Made popular by CAIN, this choir-friendly, foot-stomping anthem is a ton of fun to sing and easy to learn. I have also arranged a gorgeous new song from Regi Stone called “In the Glorious Ordinary.” This narrative lyric explores the tension of Christ as the sovereign King of kings and a helpless baby in a manger. Regi was kind enough to sing the demo himself (that alone is well worth a listen), and once you hear it, you will likely find a place for it in your programming this year.

Finally, I have re-voiced one of my most popular arrangements, the Michael Card favorite “Celebrate the Child,” into an accessible SAB setting. It’s perfect for smaller choirs, ensembles, or even student groups. I’ve also adapted my arrangement of “Holy Forever” using the Christmas lyrics, allowing your choir to share this widely loved song with a seasonal focus.

I’m so honored to help create music for your worship services. May these songs be a blessing to you and your ministry!

One Small Child

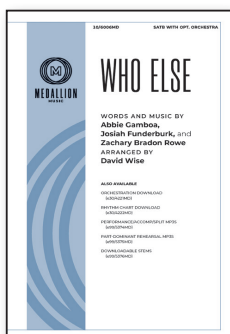

David Meece

arr. Mary McDonald

Christmas

Mary McDonald's arrangement of David Meece's timeless Christmas ballad is both rhythmic and reflective. The nuanced text offers a clear portrait of the "small Child" who is also the King of kings and the Light of the world: "One small Child in a land of a thousand, one small dream in a people of might; one small hand reaching out to the starlight, one small Savior of life."

Who Else

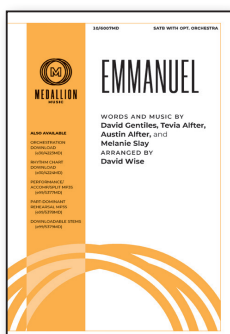

Gateway Worship

arr. David Wise

General

This popular Gateway Worship song has been given a creative treatment by arranger David Wise. Staying true to the driving power of the original recording, Wise adds depth through his stellar orchestration and energized choral writing. Soaring brass and strings elevate the groove, while the bridge builds to a climactic peak leading into the final choruses.

Emmanuel

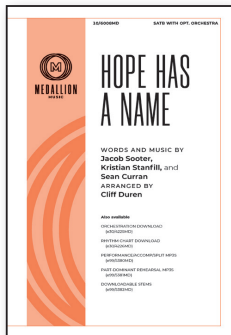

Charity Gayle

arr. David Wise

Christmas

This epic choral setting of "Emmanuel" is rich with theological depth. The text traces the biblical story from creation and the fall to the coming of Christ and His restoring presence. Featuring both male and female lead vocals with the choir providing strong support, the arrangement builds steadily to a stirring finish—an impactful cornerstone for Christmas services and concerts.

Hope Has a Name

Passion
arr. Cliff Duren

Advent · Christmas

Cliff Duren's cinematic choral setting of this Passion worship song celebrates the hope found in the birth of Emmanuel. Moving from Old Testament prophecy to New Testament fulfillment, the text culminates in a clear proclamation of the Gospel. Choir-led with a driving orchestration, this uplifting anthem is a powerful choice for Advent and Christmas worship.
