Christmas Is Coming and We Are Getting Fat!

Two-part Chorus (Any Combination of Voices) and Piano

D. and J. Perry

Ranges: Part I Part II

Performance suggestions:

Liberties may be taken by the director and singers performing this song in assigning solos or section solos to various portions of the piece. Suggested voicings might include: SA, TB, or SATB (with ST on Part I and AB on Part II; or SB on Part I and AT on Part II). Use your imagination with choreography to create a performance that 'invites' the audience up on the stage with the singers.

bones are in the trash. We've eaten every thing in sight, including turkey hash.

As we waddle up the stairs and climb into our beds, we fall asleep with sugar plums dancing in our heads. For Christmas is coming and... we are getting fat, 'cause we're eating too much of this and that. We munch and we nibble and we gobble every treat 'til we're stuffed so full, we can't see our feet.

We've been over the river and through the woods, at Grand-mother's house we stayed. We ate mashed potatoes and hot corn bread and drank sweet lemonade. We had pumpkin pie, vanilla ice cream and biscuits of Grand-ma's fame. Now we're ready to burst, and what could be worse, to-fame. Now we're ready to burst, and what could be worse, tomor-row we'll do the same!
